EXPERIENCE

I have spent the first 20 years of my nursing career in the Intensive Care and Emergency Department. My training and experience allowed me to provide the highest level of nursing care to the sickest patients. I made it a priority to understand evidence based practice and to follow the best standard of care possible. My greatest honor was to advocate for the critically ill until they were able to do so for themselves again.

In my role as a Medical Analyst, I advocate for clients by providing individual support and special knowledge. Many of the cases I work on relate to failure to provide the standard of care in critical illness. I will advocate for the client in a professional nursing manner as we work to discover and resolve potential medical malpractice needs.
